

If not now, when?

You had good reasons to put off finishing that degree. But now you recognize that decision is keeping you from reaching your goals.

Is now the time to jump back into higher education? No one is saying it'll be easy — but you've done lots of other difficult things!

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Other women have balanced “real life” challenges with college work. If it's been a few years since your last class, you may find that school has changed : more adults in class, more flexible schedules, more topics that help you right now!

Kathy M. said, “I knew that completing my degree would take 6 years and I'd be 49 before I finished. But then I realized I'd be 49 in 6 years whether or not I started back to school . I signed up the next semester, and I've never looked back.”

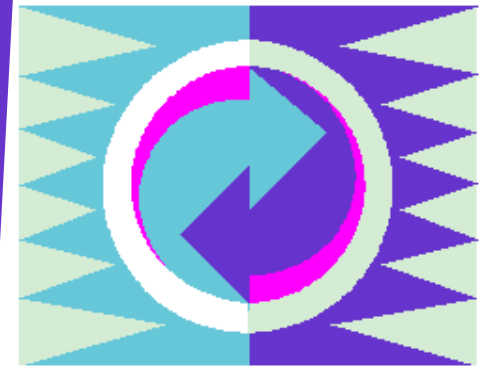

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN

AAUW advances equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, and research. In 2009, the AAUW Raleigh/Wake County branch will celebrate 100 years of support for public education, enhanced opportunities for women, and

Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555
Email: xyz@microsoft.com

AAUW Raleigh/Wake County

Mom's Turn to Learn!

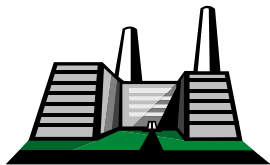

Family, Work,
School ...

www.turntolearn.org

You can do it!

No longer do all college students come straight from high school. More people — especially women — move between school and work throughout their lifetimes. In today's economy, women can expect to make several transitions involving their careers and education. AAUW Raleigh/Wake County hopes to provide resources and encouragement to all those who wish to return to higher education.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Check our web site, www.turntolearn.org, for

- Profiles of local schools
- Resources for returning students
- Success stories from those like you

Reasons to finish that degree!

•

Resources ...

•